REVENUE SERVICE

Greenville District, Which Includes Anderson County, Under a New Officer

It is understood in Anderson that the changes made in the last week in the revenue service in this state will result in Anderson and vicinity being in charge of J. L. Adams, recently appointed office deputy by J. L. Sims, of Oconee county, marshal for South Carolina. Anderson is in the Greenville district.

In order to do away with the fee system, United States Marshal J. L. Sims, in compliance with orders received from the attorney general, has appointed four office deputies to supplant the twelve field deputies in the state. Messrs. E. F. Harrison, with headquarters at Florence; William Cooper, with headquarters at Columbia; and J. Waring Simons, with headquarters at Charleston, are the new men appointed. Mr. J. L. Adams, an employee of the Charleston office, was transferred to Greenville. These appointments will have to be confirmed by the attorney general before they become permanent. The men, however, took up the duties of their office the first of this month.

The territories which will be in charge of these office deputies are as follows:

Greenville district, in charge of J. L. Adams, comprises the following counties: Pickens, Greenville, Anderson and Oconee.

Spartanburg district, in charge of E. F. Harrison, is composed of Laurens, Abbeville, Cherokee, Spartanburg, Greenwood, Chester, Union and York counties.

W. F. Roper will have charge of the following counties: Georgetown, Williamsburg, Clarendon, Florence, Horry, Marion, Dillon, Marlboro, Sumter, Chesterfield, Darlington, and Lee.

The following counties comprise the district which will be in charge of William Cooper: Newberry, Orangeburg, Hamburg, Barnwell, Calhoun, Lexington, Richland, Aiken, Edgefield, Saluda, Fairfield, Lancaster and Kershaw.

J. Waring Simons will have charge of the Charleston district, which is comprised of Charleston, Colleton, Beaufort, Hampton, Berkeley and Dorchester.

Heretofore all business coming under this jurisdiction was conducted by the field deputies who received fees for all work done, but under the new system this fee system has been abolished and the office deputies receive a regular salary.

AT WILLIAMSTON

Jesse Kelly, Nine Years of Age,
Fired Shot Gun Yesterday and
Killed Little Boy Instantly

One of the saddest tragedies ever enacted in Anderson county took place yesterday at Williamston at 12 o'clock when Jesse Kelly, nine years of age, pulled the trigger of a shot gun, instantly killing his younger brother, Raymond Kelly, five years of age.

The two little boys had been in the cotton field during the morning and when noon time arrived they came to the house and both sat down on the hearth. In some manner they managed to get their father's shot gun off the wall and began to play with it. The little fellow having hold of the muzzle while his brother grasped the trigger. The older boy thought that the gun was unloaded and he pulled the trigger. The gun fired, the entire load of shot striking the baby in the mouth and killing him instantly. The little fellow's mouth and face were terribly mangled and torn.

As soon as the affair took place Dr. Lander was summoned and he in turn telephoned for Coroner Hardin to come to the scene. Mr. Hardin went to Williamston and finally succeeded in getting the boy to talk about the affair and to tell how it happened. After hearing the facts stated the coroner concluded that no inquest would be necessary, since it was clearly another case of the "unloaded gun."

The father of the two little boys is Art Kelly and he lives on the station at A. L. McAdams, which is just about one-quarter mile from the business district of Williamston. The baby will be buried today at Williamston.

Columbia Weather Prophet Has Issued Forecast That Winter
Will Be "The Worst Ever"

How Anderson people are going to buy coal this winter at $5.00 and $6.00 a ton when a dollar will be as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth remains to be seen but if William Houseal, the Dutch weather prophet of Columbia knows his business, then coal will have to be bought and lots of it. Mr. Houseal has made more of it. Mr. Houseal has made more of it. Mr. Houseal has made more of it.

"The winter of 1914-15 will mark such a return to conditions which prevailed during the period of 1884-85, with the intervening warmer winters following, which then led to the climax in 1889, when lower temperatures were recorded than had prevailed in a century.

"This is seen that no less than seven snows will cross the Blue Ridge this winter. All of these snows may not visit South Carolina. This statement is made in explanation of the fact that our winter conditions are controlled by the kind of treatment the Blue Ridge mountains give the storm centers which come out of the northwest.

"The winter of 1914-15 will mark such a return to conditions which prevailed during the period of 1884-85, with the intervening warmer winters following, which then led to the climax in 1889, when lower temperatures were recorded than had prevailed in a century.

"Cool temperatures centering around September 12 will be repeated October 12-15, with frost which will be quite severe north of and along the 36th parallel. Killing frost will occur November 12-15, the date being central as always indicated in these forecasts.

"I desire to say in this connection that the weather conditions of 1914-15 should make it one of the most favorable seasons for the production of grain crops. I hope the farmers will heed the advice which is being given by W. W. Long, the government farm demonstration agent, and row large areas of oats, wheat and rye.

This course will tide them over a critical period which has been produced by the European war. If they will do so, they will save themselves from threatened disaster and prepare themselves for the wave of prosperity which is bound to succeed the war."

LOCAL BOTTLERS SEND LETTER TO SENATORS

REGARDING SOFT DRINK TAX

ARE AGAINST IT

Point Out In Communication Sent
To Washington That It Would
Be Unjust and Work Hardship

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Anderson county bottlers and those gentlemen engaged in this county in the enterprise of manufacturing soft drinks have become much aroused over the fact that congress is considering the matter of placing a tax on all soft drinks and bottlers of that commodity. The dealers in Anderson yesterday were busy in mailing out letters to the congressmen and senators in Washington with whom they are personally acquainted. They mailed dozens of these letters during the day and they believe that the Anderson letters will get some results. These letters were sent to Hoke Smith, T. W. Hardwick and a number of other prominent southerners. The following is a copy:

"The papers have been publishing stories to the effect that congressional action is contemplated looking to the imposition of a tax on soda water for the purpose of helping out the loss of revenue caused by the war in Europe; and it is in this regard that I write you this letter. A tax of one-eighth of a cent per bottle has been mentioned, and I say to you in all fairness that the imposition of this amount would be confiscatory on the bottling business if the bottler was compelled to bear it, and would be paid by the small merchant if the bottler was compelled to raise the price. Another thing: the standard package of bottled soda water is a crate of 2 dozen bottles. If the bottler can realize a net profit of 10c per crate on his product, he is making about the maximum profit. You can readily see what percentage of the bottler's small profit such a tax would take; and this following his increased cost of production caused by the advance in the price of sugar and other items which are necessary to him in the production of his goods.

"Bottled soda water is usually sold to the poor man, as you know, to the cotton mill employee and the farmer and laboring man, who ordinarily do not patronize the marble soda fountain, yet they are engaged in one branch of the soda water business; and if the bottler of soda water was subjected to this tax and the fountain owner exempted, it would result in a most unjust discrimination. "Another point is this: The bottling business is perhaps further and better developed in the South than in any other section of the country; owing to the longer season—and the imposition of this tax would require a much higher proportion of it to be sold by the people of the south than by those of the north and west. "I feel quite sure you will subject all this legislation to your usual close scrutiny, and am writing this in the hope that I may be able to call your attention to some of the probable results of this tax which might not occur to you."

POPE WILL INTERVENE

New Pontiff Will Exert Every Effort to Bring War to Close.

Paris, Sept. 8.—It is expected here that Pope Benedict will make reference to the war in a pastoral letter, which he soon will address to the Episcopacy of the world announcing his election. While it is considered that the present moment is not propitious for fruitful intervention by the Vatican, it is hoped that if in the near future it seems advisable for the Vatican to hold out the olive branch, that the United States, a neutral power, may back in a powerful manner the papal initiative.

COURT IN SESSION

Claude Poore Will Be Arraigned
Thursday to Answer for Killing
Of Kelly

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

As a result of the work accomplished in the court of general sessions, Judge Robert W. Memminger presiding, the grand jury for Anderson county yesterday returned 15 true bills, no bill in one case and the court heard two pleas of guilty. Court convened at 10:30 o'clock and was adjourned at 1:30 o'clock, these changes being due to the fact that yesterday was election day.

Judge Memminger did not make any charge to the grand jury of a formal nature. He merely sketched that body's duties and told the foreman that additional information would be given provided the body requested same.

Ed Collins, charged with selling liquor, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve three months or pay a fine of $100.

Jack Sanders entered a plea of guilty to the charge of housebreaking and larceny and was sentenced to serve on the public works of the county for 18 months.

In the case of Arthur Colyer, charged with murder, the grand jury returned no bill. This case was where two little boys were playing together when a gun discharged and it seemed to be an accident.

The following is a list of the true bills returned:

Os Bozeman, charged with murder.

Ulysses Davis, charged with murder.

W. R. Harris, charged with murder.

Claude Poore, charged with murder.

J. A. Brock, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, carrying concealed weapons and pointing a pistol.

T. Williams, charged with arson.

Ed Collins, charged with violating the dispensary law.

Albert Sharpling, charged with housebreaking and larceny.

Albert Sharpling, charged with burglary and larceny.

Floyd Gambrell, charged with housebreaking and larceny.

Owen Williams, charged with larceny from the house and receiving stolen goods.

Frank Spencer, Robert Hudgens, and DeVant Wilson, charged with housebreaking and larceny.

Owing to the fact that portions of the testimony offered in these cases by detectives was discredited, Solicitor Smith entered a nolle prosequere in the following cases where the defendants were charged with selling liquor: Jule Fortner, Jim Heatherly, Will Wilson, Dan Hollingsworth, Reuben Johnson, Tillman Miller, Gade Simpson, Louis Hamilton, Gaines Holison, Bert Compton, Charles Lewis and E. C. Pepper.

Solicitor Kurtz P. Smith announced yesterday afternoon that the first case to be called this morning will be that against Will Belcher, charged with murder. The solicitor also announced that he had set the case of Claude Poore, charged with murder, for trial Thursday of this week. It will be remembered that Poore, while a policeman at Williamston, shot and killed a man named Kelly in that place, which case will probably be the most interesting to be tried at this term of the court of general sessions.
